

DR. MC'NAUGHTON SENTENCED TO HANG

GEORGIA PHYSICIAN CON-
VICTED OF POISONING
HIS PATIENT

Swainsboro, Ga., Oct. 19—One of the most sensational criminal trials in the history of Georgia, ended here today with the conviction of Dr. W. J. McNaughton, a prominent physician, of the murder of Fred Flanders. McNaughton was sentenced to hang November 30.

A motion for a new trial will be heard in Columbus November 23. Judge Gilbert signed an order staying the executing pending the disposition of the motion.

The case has attracted widespread attention throughout the State. Flander's wife was indicted jointly with McNaughton on the theory that she and the doctor conspired to kill her husband so they could marry each other and enjoy Flander's property. The trial of Mrs. Flanders has not been assigned.

The fact that Flanders had been murdered almost escaped the notice of the authorities in Emanuel county. Flanders had been buried several days when the conduct of McNaughton and

Mrs. Flanders aroused the suspicion of people here and started an investigation which resulted in a post mortem and murder warrants.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE IS OPENED FOR WINTER

Montgomery, Oct. 20—The Woman's College opened without public exercises of any nature Wednesday, although there were formal exercises conducted by Rev. J. M. Dannelly, one of the moving spirits of the college. The religious services were conducted by Mr. Dannelly, and he also made a short talk to the students, as did Dr. Martin, president of the faculty of the college.

There is yet much finishing to be done at the college upon the main building, and until this is accomplished there will be no public function of whatever character. The work is being rushed as fast as possible, and the college officials hope that everything will be in readiness at an early date.

The street car lines will be finished within a few days, and the present system of meeting the Oak Park lines with wagonettes will be done away with, and the students and visitors to the college will use the Cloverdale line.

W. S. Bonham is in Montgomery this week on business.

WELLMAN'S TRIP GIVES HIM HOPES

SAYS VOYAGE ACROSS
OCEAN CAN BE AC-COMPLISHED.

New York, Oct. 19—Walter Wellman and the members of his ill-fated trans Atlantic expedition in the dirigible balloon America, who were rescued from impending death at sea 360 miles east of Cape Hatteras yesterday, believe that a voyage in an airship across the Atlantic may be yet accomplished. The Wellman party are aboard the steamship Trent, whose timely arrival saved the adventurers. The heavy fog held back the Trent this morning and at 9 o'clock she was about 20 miles east of Sandy Hook. The Trent will dock this afternoon.

While the object of Wellman's venturesome trip was not accomplished, he succeeded in creating a new world's record for dirigibles, being 72 hours in the air and covering, according to Wellman, a thousand miles over rough seas.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the Trent came to anchor below Sandy Hook because of the heavy fog.

A wireless message was received this morning through the United Wireless system from Operator Ginsberg, of the steamer Trent, giving further details of the rescue of the America's crew at sea. The message was as follows:

Steamer Trent, Oct. 19, 35 miles southwest of Sandy Hook. The crew of the America after resting all night, are feeling none the worse for their thrilling experience. From what I can gather in conversation with Irwin, (the wireless operator of the America) the most exciting moment of the three days was after the launching of the America's lifeboat. The Trent bore down, full speed upon the small boat.

Like Singer Building
Irwin declares for the moment it looked as if she would cut her in half. The Trent appeared to him the size of the Singer Building and he was prepared to jump overboard and swim clear of the propeller. Fortunately this was unnecessary.

"The Trent passed the lifeboat, dangerously rocking her. A rope was thrown and caught by the men, who, however, could not hold on, owing to the rough seas. The Trent cleared the lifeboat, which dropped half a mile astern. As the big steamer turned in her wake to return to the lifeboat it was seen the airship's men had gotten out two oars and were struggling to keep her head up to the sea.

"We were now along side the craft. Again lines were thrown, (Continued on page seven)

EUFULA ASKS REPEAL OF PROHIBITION LAWS

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS RE-SOLUTION OF MAYOR
MCDOWELL

Eufaula, Ala., Oct. 19—At the regular monthly meeting of the City Council Tuesday night, Mayor McDowell introduced a resolution calling on State Senator Monthrop and the Barbour county representatives to use their influence at the next session of the Senate and House to have the state-wide prohibition law repealed so that Eufaula might take steps to again operate a dispensary, the object being to increase the city's revenue.

The resolution was adopted, there being but two dissenting votes cast, and a full council was assembled.

This is the first step in this direction that has been taken in the state, and the action of the Eufaula City Council is the all-absorbing topic today in political circles.

NEGRO IS ARRESTED FOR FALSE PRETENSE

Charged with false pretense, a Pansey negro was pulled from train 180 this morning by Officer Posey, and locked up. Later a warrant was sworn out.

He was arrested on allegations made by W. S. Wilson, who claimed that the negro had come to his tie camp near Pansey and received money for ties he was supposed to have cut in the woods near there. No ties were found and the negro left. He was seen this morning on the train by Mr. Wilson who was returning from Montgomery, and his arrest followed.

full by Friday night, and in them are shown the best animals that have been through the fair circuit this year. The race track is beginning to come into its own as a drawing card. Thursday the grandstand was swarming with race lovers.

They got a race treat in the close races that were run. The entry lists were full and the heats close. To the horse lover there is no prettier sight than a bunch of good pacers coming down the track. In this gait the horses rock side to side giving a fine view of the magnificent muscles in full play, and fairly making the spectator's pulse dance with the exhilaration of it.

Then, too, there is the fun of watching the driver of a trotter getting his animal back into stride when it breaks, to see the horse lose a bit of ground, and gamely takes it up again.

The races are diversified for the benefit of the crowd by the introduction of motor cycle races, the most dangerous form of all speed sports and then there is a noisy attachment that lends its lively lure.

In the galaxy of entertainment the absence of the fakir shows on the midway was forgotten, for intelligent people can find enough at the exposition to interest them for a month, and there is plenty for those who also want entertainment.

The number of people visiting the grounds is increasing steadily, and those who have been out do not fail to come back a second time. The only fault that could be found is that there is so much worth while to be seen the visitor is bewildered by it all. The Auburn exhibit, or any of the others in the Agricultural hall would alone furnish entertainment and instruction to a thinking person for a week, and the same may be said of almost all the others.

A Just Complaint

A man who lives near Dothan, and who does all of his trading here, comes here in fact for everything that he has to buy, was in the office to see the Eagle the other day. He wanted some kicks made. We heard his contentions, and believe that they are just. He says that some of the motorcycle riders, and some of the automobile drivers, are too careless. They pull things wide open and come full speed, no matter if your five hundred dollar pair of mules, are climbing a tree or going through a wire fence. They don't stop when the signal is given.

This kind of reckless driving and driving is going to lead to trouble for some one. Either some man's family will be thrown out of the wagon and killed or crippled, or some valuable live stock will be damaged. If it isn't stopped, some will resort to means that will likely cause trouble for some one.

Some of the automobile drivers speed too much, when approaching a team, and some of the people who ride a motorcycle don't seem to take into consideration that it is three times as noisy as an automobile, and looks much more dangerous to the average male. It has all of the old time buggy looks of the bicycle, and a noise that is painful thrown in.

It is sometimes too much of an effort for the driver of an automobile to consider how he would feel if he were at the other end, where the mules are waltzing on two legs, with things spilling out of the wagon.

Waking Up.

This town is getting busy trying to sell some goods, or the enterprising merchants here are. They are saying things about their goods that ought to make people come to Dothan to buy what they need.

"At one time in the history of this town, and that during the last few years, we had but two or three merchants who went after business through the papers all the year round. Now we have many merchants who are giving the papers good patronage, and keeping the good points before the public.

This is a new era in the mercantile business in this town.

The merchants have tried advertising in the papers, and they see that there is something in it. They are buying more space than they ever did before. Some of the firms who have never done any advertising except a four by six hand bill on circus day, have awakened to the importance of keeping up with the procession. Once they put their good points of their stock forward, the public responds, and then they see direct results.

It is history in the newspaper offices, that the merchants who buy space regularly for awhile, never discontinue it. They get results, and cannot afford to stop.

There are many reasons why people should come to Dothan to do all their shopping during the next few weeks. The merchants here have bought heavily; there is keen competition; they are all wanting a share of the business, and if there is any trade in a man, he can find something to suit him here. The stocks in Dothan will compare favorably with those you find in any city. People are buying a better grade of goods and they expect to pay a better price.

The man who runs his thumb under the wraps of a hundred or so papers each day, to say nothing of the ones not wrapped, soon learned a good deal about the characteristics of the different papers. He learns their type, both display and body; he can tell what paper it is without looking at any names that would show what town issues it. He can tell a Monday's paper, wherever he sees it, without a date to guide him. The Monday's news is warmed over, much of it, and deals with sermons of the day before, and Saturday's left-overs.

President Taft has moved his official residence back to Washington, from Beverly, Mass., a town that is no doubt glad to get rid of him so the folks can go in and take off their collars and tight shoes once more. It is an awful strain on a small country town like Beverly to have to entertain a big man like Taft during the hottest part of the year. The people couldn't stand it, probably, if the President didn't manage to slip off twenty, or twenty-five days out of each month to take a little spin around over the country.

"Whiskey by express has lost its popularity," says a headline from Tuscaloosa. Yes, it has lost its popularity in this town to a certain extent. There is no use in paying express charges when quantities can be ordered days ahead by freight. Of course, the best regulated businesses get careless, or have a rush, and run out of material earlier at times than they figured. In that event, it is good business to use the express. The express is absolutely safe, and much quicker in its delivery to the thirsty.

It is with regret, throughout the United States that Sing Sing prison is to be done away with, and replaced by a $2,500,000 thoroughly modern place of detention and entertainment. It is the most widely read of place of its kind in the world, no doubt, and the present attendance is good, in fact too good, and more commodious quarters are to be secured.

The real estate agents need hunking up a little in this town. They are not hustling as much as they should for the season of the year, for some of the other employees of the government building no doubt want to look over a nice list of real estate in or around Dothan.

Wellman is getting too old; he hasn't the come-back so much talked of in Jeffries. Don't exactly mean come-back either, for he has never been off. But he made a good start, considering that he did it on purpose and not accidentally. If his nerve doesn't fail him—and he is full of nerve—he may try it again sometime and succeed.

The Democrats of Alabama are cavorting around like this. Republican ticket was of really some significance. But it seems to us that they are giving it undue notoriety. Otherwise one would scarcely know that a Republican ticket existed.—Troy Messenger.

Dothan hasn't heard what her census is, but she is satisfied with the situation, whether the government seems to give us what we expected or not. It will not take but a few months to get what we thought we were entitled to, anyway.

The best advice a young man can take in these days of keen competition in every line, is to learn some one thing, and learn it mighty well. Learn it better than the average man, and his services will always be in demand.

We are just about near enough to the coast to get a good breeze during the summer, when it is needed the worst, and far enough from the coast to miss the gulf storms that wreck things every few years.

Any king or queen who gets fired nowadays, break for England like a scared dog for home. They feel that if they ever get on English soil that protection will be given them.

WEST MAIN STREET HOME FOR SALE

A West Main Street home less than a block from the Court House, on large lot, is on the market for a few days. We have the exclusive sale of this property and will be pleased to quote a price if you are interested.

A well established business, the only one of its kind in the city, paying the present owner over 10 per cent a month on the investment, is for sale at cost. Present net income over $250 a month. See us for particulars.

We have for sale at $23.50 an acre, 220 acres of good land, 160 acres open, well improved, a six room, modern, painted farm house and four other settlements, one and a half miles southeast of city on Cottonwood road. This is the best farm proposition on the market now.

For immediate sale, a seven room residence, large rooms, on north side, two blocks from North Foster Street, all conveniences. Half acre lot, price $3500; terms $1000 cash, balance five years, at 8 per cent.

Here's the way to own your home and stop rent paying: I you will pay for the lot, only four for sale and these are centrally located and well elevated, we will furnish the money to build the home and you can pay us back during the next five years.

and nothing done up in tin-folium cap-walls, ungar-coated, and wholly according to the Pure Food Laws. In the next twelve months the home without its "Uncle Walt" book will be a home in gloom indeed.

An All-Star Book

This book is a beautiful work, with cover in green and gold, by Will Bradley, frontispiece by the famous McCutcheon. Introduction by William Allen White. Illustrated by William Stevens. The book is printed on high-grade paper, deckle-edged, gift top—100 pages of humor, wisdom, and side-splitting what-not.

If your bookshelf does not have "Uncle Walt," send check or money order to the address below, and it will come to you, prepaid, by the quickest transportation. George Matthew Adams, Publisher, Peoples Gas Building, CHICAGO

Ought to Climb for Him

He had never fished before, and his rod was new and shining with splendid varnish. Faultlessly attired, he was whipping a trout stream when by some odd chance he got a bite, a one-pounder from the waterline strained. He did not play the fish at all, but with rod held straight ahead, he slowly and steadily reeled him in. Presently the fish's head appeared below the end of the rod. Did he stop? No indeed; he kept on reeling in the fish in, and finally the fish's head touched the tip. The man even tried to pull him through the ring. Just then the man saw a stranger standing across the bank. With a bewildered look, he said: "What shall I do now?" "The only thing you can do now," the man said, "is to climb up the pole after him."—National Magazine.

The Banquet to Henry Clay in New Orleans in 1842 Cost $100 per Plate

Never before had the historic old St. Louis Hotel, near the famous French Market Place, contained such an assemblage of beautiful women and famous men. Here it was that Henry Clay made his only speech in Louisiana and with matchless eloquence paid a glowing tribute to the beauty of Southern women. Before and after this banquet the guests sipped the famous French Market Coffee, as was the custom in those days. Then this famous beverage could be had only at the French Market. Now you may serve it at your own table, for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

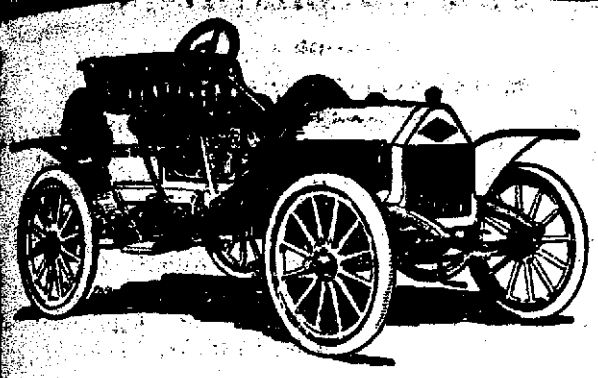

The Same Unique Hygienic Roasting Process "There is but one French Market flavor"

You can obtain this rare coffee blend with all the enticing aroma and natural strength preserved, for we pack it in hermetically sealed cans. And it is untouched by human hands from plantation to the cup. Order from your grocer today. Try some, and you will agree that there is only one French Market flavor.
